DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1 and 11, it is unclear what structural features are encompassed by the term "Kangaroo abdomen portion". It appears that applicants are attempting to claim the holding pouch as the "Kangaroo abdomen portion", however claims 2 and 12 further claim a pouch area. Therefore it is not clear if the "Kangaroo abdomen portion" is the same thing as a "therapeutic pouch area" or if they are two different things. For purposes of examination it is assumed that they are the same.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 and 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Eggert et al '676. Eggert discloses a device containing all of the elements of the claims including with reference to claims 1 and 11, a head portion (304), a neck portion (314), a torso portion (316), a base support (region 320 and legs 322b and 322a). Lacking any distinguishing structural features, a "Kangaroo" abdomen portion, as required by claims 1, 3, 11 and 13, is shown as the abdomen portion in figures 4 and 5A. A therapeutic pouch area, as required by claims 2 and 12, is shown as cavity 333 and an external pouch area is shown as cover 324. A chest portion, as required by claims 3 and 13, is shown in figures 4 and 5A. A head portion comprised of human-like eyes (308a and b), human-like nose (310), human-like mouth (312) and a base comprising a pair of lower extremities (region 320 and legs 322b and 322a), as required by claims 4 and 14, is shown in figure 4 and described in col. 7, lines 32-54. A control panel, as required by claim 11 is shown as control box 328 in figure 4. Lacking any distinguishing structural features a crib for placing a device in a horizontal position, as required by claim 11, is read onto the table support shown in figures 4 and 5.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cieslak '567. Cieslak discloses a device containing all of the elements of the claim including, a head portion, a neck portion, a torso portion, a base support portion (figures 1 and 2, where the lower portion 7 is read onto the base), a control panel (read onto the front panel of crib 8 since it has a locking control 9 for locking and unlocking the crib) and a crib (figure 4).

Art Unit: 3712

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-10 and 15-20 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 and 11-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. However it should be pointed out that the term "Kangaroo abdomen portion" as claimed does not provide for any structural limitation but is viewed as merely a name that the applicants give to their claimed abdomen portion. With respect to applicants arguments that Cieslak fails to teach a crib, the examiner points out element 8 of Cieslak has a variety of uses including a crib as clearly stated in col. 1, lines 18-22.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
